

Myers-Briggs for Motorcycles

A personality styles assessment for today's rider. Accurate 98.7 times of 100.

Type: Standard Plodder

Personality: Follows the crowd, seeks to fit into groups, drinks excessively and smokes drugs. Conventional in outlook and tends to migrate to group events. Successful in business and relationships due to pleasing personality. Can be trusted with small amounts of money.

Rides: Faster than ability. Poor at braking.

Clothing: Black, chosen for overweight comfort.

Approach: Freely, friendly reminiscing outlook.

Type: Cliffjumper

Personality: Childish and immature. Seeks the company of equally unstable people. Lacks accountability and subject to fantasy. Finds it hard to hold onto jobs. Moves often. Likes to flout authority. Weaves in and out of traffic.

Rides: Fast and loose. Unable to regulate speed.

Clothing: Expensive racer look-alike gear, multi-colored with racing boots.

Approach: Cautiously with bike questions. Avoid when in packs.

Type: Retro

Personality: Mature and introspective. Suffers from sexual inadequacy fears. Needy and clingy with narcissistic tendency. A dreamer who easily slumps into a vacuous mental state oblivious to others. Imagines mechanical ability when none exists. Rationalizes obsessively close feelings with bike. Machine dangerously over-maintained.

Rides: Constantly.

Clothing: Mid-60s cool.

Approach: Freely with bike compliments.

Type: Militarist romanticist

Personality: Repressed childhood traumas resulting in need to escape. Language and mannerisms psychotic and irrational although generally harmless. Gravitates to muddy low areas infested with insects. May develop oozing skin sores from poor hygiene. Fixated on overloading motorcycle with useless trivia. Credit cards have been cancelled, must stay out of bright sunlight.

Rides: Long and exhausting, involves mud.

Clothing: Filthy and ill matched.

Approach: Dress down and speak slowly.

Type: Hellion

Personality: Violent and immature, feeds off negative energy and tattoo's. Seeks serial sexual adventures. Threatening and hostile approach. Juvenile language skills punctuated with filth and degenerate concepts. Suffers extreme PTSD. Drowns sorrows in loud exhaust noise.

Rides: Loud and fast to and from crime scenes.

Clothing: Black punctuated with white skulls.

Approach: Do not approach. Stay in your vehicle with the doors locked, prepare to depart quickly.

Type: Atlantian Pretender

Personality: Sucky and seeking approval. Poorly coordinated and avoids physical work. Does not trust self. Social identity issues and tends to be first to wear diapers. Bubbly at first with some discernable humor but soon succumbs to boring irrelevant monologues involving self.

Rides: Slow, accelerates hard to compensate.

Clothing: Whatever was worn yesterday.

Approach: Loves technical bike questions. No appreciable wisdom to share on any topic.

Type: Dirtfreak

Personality: Rejectionist. Suffers from parental suffocation syndrome and fears enclosed spaces. No ability to comprehend reality. Fantasizes about riding far beyond ability. Harmless but unstable.

Rides: Enjoys riding in prohibited areas.

Clothing: Extensive kevlar armor which has not and never will ever touch dirt.

Approach: Chummy when alone. Tends to packs.

Type: Yesterday's man

Personality: Mature and tortured. Seeks the finer things in life that are now out of reach. Not a reliable source of information or friendship. Seems stable at first but abnormal reactions become apparent in time. Not able to function socially. May have pockets full of tools or old soggy kleenex.

Rides: Obsessively at every opportunity.

Clothing: Value Village, chosen to match bike.

Approach: Safe to approach. Desperate for any type of approval.

Type: Scoobee-doo

Personality: Childish and irritating. Superiority complex and inability to explain anything simply. Gravitates to those who will tolerate hour long descriptions of oil changes. Has never had a full sexual experience, suffers extreme rejection syndrome and latent violent tendencies. Tends to be unreliable and dishonest with short attention span.

Rides: Short, zippy, and economical. Cognitive challenges prevent longer trips.

Clothing: T-shirt and sandals or barefoot.

Approach: Freely approached, likes drugs.

Type: Rebeller

Personality: Extreme narcissistic loner, fixated on being cool, addicted to rebelling. Fantasizes race wins and movie deals that never materialize. Unable to handle money. Afraid of the dark. Vastly overrates riding ability. Has an unhealthy bond with mother and is disliked by most animals.

Rides: Off road through toxic waste sites.

Clothing: Blue jeans and goggles.

Approach: Easily approached to admire bike, unable to converse beyond rudimentary level.