

ELEPHANT EGO SYNDROME

Unable to deal with the overwhelming guilt from the separation, the entire universe had to be projected outward in an attempt to displace the guilt. The world we see is an outward projection of inner thoughts. The world's problems cannot be solved in the world (at the level of effect) but only in the mind (the level of cause).

The holy spirit was instantly created during the separation experience and remains an inseparable part of our minds. It is the only way home, which we will choose when we are ready.

This projection serves the purpose of making it appear the problems of this world are everywhere but where they actually are - in our own minds. Everyone is to blame - except ourselves.
